

ROMAN CHURCH

MARK TWAIN ON CATHOLIC GRAFT

Apropos of comment on the liquefaction of the blood of St. Januarius, the following from Volume 2, Chapter 2, of "The Innocents Abroad," by Mark Twain, might be of interest to our readers:

"In this city of Naples, they believe in and support one of the 'wretchedest of all the religious impostures one can find in Italy—the miraculous liquefaction of the blood of St. Januarius. Twice a year the priests assemble all the people at the cathedral, and get out this vial of clotted blood and let them see it slowly dissolve and become liquid—and every day for eight days this dismal farce is repeated, while the priests go among the crowd and collect money for the exhibition. The first day, the blood liquefies in forty-seven minutes—the church is crammed, then, and time must be allowed the collectors to get around; after that it liquefies a little quicker and a little quicker every day, as the houses grow smaller, till on the eighth day, with only a few dozen present to see the miracle, it liquefies in four minutes.

"And here, also, they used to have a grand procession of priests, citizens, soldiers, sailors, and the high dignitaries of the city government, once a year, to shave the head of a made-up Madonna—a stuffed and painted image, like a milliner's dummy—whose hair miraculously grew and restored itself every twelve months. They still kept up this shaving process, as late as four or five years ago. It was a source of great profit to the church that possessed the remarkable effigy, and the ceremony of the public barbering of her was always carried out with the greatest possible eclat and display. The more the better, because the more excitement there was about it the larger the crowds it drew and the heavier the revenues it produced—but at last a day came when the Pope and his servants were unpopular in Naples, and the city government stopped the Madonna's annual show."

The following taken from Volume 2, Chapter 1, of "The Innocents Abroad" may also be of use to you:

I wish here to mention an inscription I have seen before I forget it: 'Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth TO MEN OF GOOD WILL.' It is not good scripture, but it is sound Catholic and human nature.

"This is in letters of gold around the apsis of a mosaic group at the side of the scala sacra, church of St. John Lateran, the Mother and Mistress of all Catholic churches of the world. The group represents the Savior, St. Peter, Pope Leo, St. Silvester, Constantine and Charlemagne. Peter is giving the pallium to the Pope and a standard to Charlemagne. The Savior is giving the keys to St. Silvester, and a standard to Constantine. No prayer is offered to the Savior, who seems to be of little importance anywhere in Rome; but an inscription below says, 'Blessed Peter, give life to Pope Leo and victory to King Charles.' It does not say, 'Intercede for us, through the savior, with the Father for this boon, but 'Blessed Peter, give them.'"

"In all seriousness—without meaning to be frivolous—without meaning to be irreverent, and more than all without meaning to be blasphemous—I state as my simple deduction from the things I have seen and the things I have heard, that the Holy Personages rank thus in Rome:

"First—The Mother of God—otherwise the Virgin Mary.

"Second—The Deity.

"Third—Peter

"Fourth—Some twelve or fifteen canonized Popes and Martyrs.

"Fifth—Jesus Christ, the Savior,—(but always as an infant in arms.) I may be wrong in this—my judgement errs often, just as is the case with other men's—but it is my judgement, be it good or bad.

Just here I will mention something that seems curious to me, there are no 'Christ's Churches in Rome and no 'Churches of the Holy Ghost' that I can discover. There are some four hundred churches, but about a fourth of them seem to be named for the Madonna and St. Peter. There are so many named for Mary that they have to be distinguished by all sorts of surnames, if I understand the matter rightly. Then we have churches of St. Louis; St. Augustine; St. Agnes; St. Calixtus; St. Lorenzini Lucina, St. Lorenzo in Damasco, St. Cecilia; St. Athanasius; St. Philip Neri; St. Catherine; St. Dominic, and a multitude of lesser saints whose names are not familiar in the world—and away down, clear out of the list of churches, comes a couple of hospitals; one of them is named for the Savior and the other for the Holy Ghost!"

PRIESTLY FUNCTIONING

The following advice, printed in a recent issue of the "Parish Record," a Roman Catholic magazine in Chicago, will be real amusing to civilized people with brains. Read it:

Sick Calls—The pastor should be notified at once, if a member of the congregation is seriously sick. Do not wait until the person is dying. A grown person should call for the priest and not a child, in order that all particulars may be given, concerning the sick person. Sick calls will be attended at any time, day or night.

For the administration of the Last Sacraments you must have prepared in the sick room, before the arrival of the priest:

1. A small table covered with white linen cloth.
2. On the table a crucifix.
3. On each side of the crucifix a blessed wax candle.
4. Holy water.
5. Salt and small pieces of bread.
6. Cotton.
7. A glass of fresh water.
8. A table spoon.

When the priest brings the Blessed Sacrament with him, receive the priest at the door with a burning wax candle, and accompany him, carrying the Blessed Sacrament to the sick room. All present in the house should kneel down and observe the strictest silence.

SAYS WILSON AIDS CATHOLICS

Ashbury Park, N. J., Nov. 24.—President Wilson's appointment of Catholics to Federal offices was criticised today by the Rev. Dr. James W. Marshall, Superintendent of the New Brunswick District of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Marshall also scored the President for his "vacillating policy in Mexico," and said that the reason he was "so tardy in taking action" was because Mexico was a Catholic country.

THE BLACK NUNNERY

F. M. LEHMAN

Catholicism! thou proud and haughty leaſt!
How long wilt thou on bleeding victims feaſt?
Thy blackened trail of midnight years
Is crimson-ſoaked with blood and tears.
The prieſt—thy tool—with PURPLE ſide,
Enchains the ſenſe and damps the ſoul.
Great God! when wilt the Proteſtant awake
To kill this crawling, curſed, Roman ſnake?

Thy Hell-born creed has long the Chriſt withſtood.
Thy luſt-out robes are dyed in martyr's blood.
Before thy gates are piles of bones.
Within are ſighs and muffled groans.
Both prieſt and nun—thy fallen tools—
Make victims in thy curſed ſchools.
Thy SYSTEM, void of conſcience, truth and heart,
Is unexcelled in depth of cunning art.

Within thy cloſtered WALLS are living tombs
Where Virtue's lovely flower ſcarce e'er blooms.
Sins—humbled—in ſublime diſgrace,
Yields to the Roman prieſt's embrace.
The prieſt-chriſt (?) and the virgin (?) nun,
Complete the ſin the church begun.
The ſcapular, the crucifix and ſtole,
The dark confessional—all damn the ſoul.

That dark "hole in the wall," what ſin is there?
Where Rome's black land has deftly laid the ſnare?
The vow, the veil—the afterpart—
The ſtiled ſob—the bleeding heart—
The long, long for ſome boſom friend—
A few ſhort years and then the end.
The girl, once pure and ſweet, and paſſing fair,
Muſt die, of virtue robbed, in this dark lair.

Secreſſion hides thy heinous crimes and ſins.
Behind thy cloſtered WALLS, what woes within!
The prieſt-chriſt (?) and the virgin (?) nun
Let here their paſſions' hot courſe run—and then the L. A. G. T. V. A. T. E.
Born but to meet thy crowning hate,
The flouſer tips on infant's miſtill preſſed
Forever ſtills the heart-beats in its breaſt.

Thy evil round legislative halls are wrapped,
With threat and gold the ſtatueſman is enſnared.
Thy ſword is ſheathed, but votes are bought,
And truckling men by thee are ſought
To this work out the pope's deſign
In homelands here and foreign land.
Foul monſter thou, with cunning deep and ſtrong,
Thy reign has run its cruel courſe too long.

O Proteſtant, wake up! this Roman BEAST
Muſt be diſturbed in this her vaulting ſeaſt!
Our battle-cry—Break down her walls!
Let looſe her ſlaves! 'Tis juſtice calls!
Unſrock the prieſt, unrobe the nun!
'Tis war on Rome muſt be won!
The monaſt'ries and nunneries muſt go,
The WALLS around theſe ſins muſt be laid low.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Dr. G. W. Argabrite, of Louisville, will preach at the Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening. You should hear this great divine, he is one of the most eloquent and impressive speakers in the south.

Baptist Church Prayer Meeting.

A large attendance marked the prayer meeting services held at this church last Wednesday evening, the first of the New Year. Brother Annis conducted the exercises, reading for the evening lesson the entire sixth chapter of Romans, every verse of which affords material for an instructive sermon, and which concludes: "the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." The brethren present alternated in short addresses appropriate to the lesson and the ladies conducted the choir service in which the audience joined with spirit.

Rev. W. D. Powell, Cor., Secy., of Kentucky Baptist Mission Association, of Louisville, who was recently removed from that city to the Gulf Coast of Florida on advice of his physician for treatment for typhoid fever is rapidly improving and expected soon to be at his accustomed post of duty.

MRS MILLER HOSTESS.

On last Saturday afternoon, from two to four o'clock, Mrs. James Miller entertained quite a number of her friends in honor of her sister, Mrs. Todd, of Richmond. Mrs. Miller was assisted by Mrs. Todd and Miss Black in receiving her guests. The house was artistically decorated in red and green, potted plants, ferns and poinsettias being used to give this effect. The dining room was especially attractive, red and green being used profusely.

On the dining table was a beautiful basket of red and white carnations, and the refreshments, which consisted of brick cream, cakes and candies, which were also carried out in the red and green.

As a result of Cincinnati's water famine, all hotel guests were denied baths, but it is not supposed that the habits of the city were much interfered with in other respects.

NEW YEAR'S

RECEPTION

Miss Gertrude Dawn Black was hostess, on New Year's day, at a reception in honor of Mrs. Henry Clay Black, of Johnson City, Tenn., and Mrs. Eugene Todd, of Richmond, Ky. The house was charmingly decorated in keeping with the Holiday season. In the drawing room, where Mrs. Black, assisted by the guests of honor, received. The guests were relieved by beautiful bouquets and baskets of roses and poinsettia. The same scheme of decoration was carried out in the library and dining room, where the lights were softly shaded. On the table from which the tea and lemonade were served, by Mrs. James Miller and Mrs. Elizabeth Archibald, was a lovely china lace cover over green satin. In the center of the table was a pretty plaque of roses.

Miss Black wore a handsome gown of purple chambrase trimmed in brocade crepe de chene and fur. Mrs. Black wore a green Japanese bordered satin, and Mrs. Todd's gown was green satin draped in black lace.

It is time to take heroic measures against this drug borgia,

FAREWELL PARTY

FOR MRS. STANFORD

On account of important business, the President has been unwilling to take any vacation, but it seems as if he might ride down to Mount Vernon and back on the trolley without making any difference to the country.

Women are More Frugal Than Men

By CLARA CAHILL PARK

Who honestly believes that he or she is extravagant? Not one, believe me. We all have our little ways of saving string, of doing without something, from early strawberries to diamond tiaras, which lead us to believe that we are in the saving class. Some even economize when it comes to giving anything away. Some people would love to do it, but can't afford it; it is one of the few things that they have to do without.

It has undoubtedly become the fashion to be economical. Because women are always the leaders in following fashion's changes, it may truly be said that they are leading here. For my part, I will admit that I may have my faults, but never that I am extravagant. That is asking altogether too much of me. One might as well be asked to admit that one is incapable!

It used to seem fairly indecent not to have rather more money than was needed about one, and to speak of any economic strain cast a blight upon the conversation.

I hate to seem prejudiced, but really I would much rather hear a man talk about economy than see his expression as the warmed-over roast comes on the table! Ideals are everything with a true man, but practicing economy is apt to seem a little crude, to jar him in his sensitive nature. Besides, the roast is generally in disguise, and deception is abhorrent to him.

"Bargain basements" were not made for men, who generally prefer that a thing should cost something before they prize it, but for the countless women that one sees every working day in the week diving boldly downward in search of hidden treasure. There is a sort of annex for men at some of these places; mostly, I am convinced, so that women can here buy presents for their male friends and relatives, for you seldom see a man there unless he is paid to stay.

Every now and then one reads a story of the rise in life of some clever politician or successful man, where the wife is unable to follow, because of her long apprenticeship to aoid care; where, in fact, she has helped to make him the successful man he is at the sacrifice of all her youthful longings.

There are almost as many, perhaps more, stories of men driven to crime for the sake of some willful woman's foolish desires, but I believe both of these classes are exceptional. Who writes about the normal little woman, who loves pretty things, but goes without when necessary, making much out of little and optimistic to the last?

This "postgraduate course" in spending the money which some one else earns is sometimes a painful process, but I believe it is responsible for the fact that married women, at least in middle life, are usually economical. The woman who earns her own living may be economical from necessity, but she has the same air of freedom in spending that characterizes a man as soon as she is past the danger line.

This practicing of economy of ours is, after all, rather a "slave-morality." But just the same, through it, like the Israelites passing through their land of bondage, we are learning how to take care of ourselves and of our goods and learning to make the world give us a show for our money. And that is something!

Bible Is More Widely Recognized Than Ever

By REV. DR. FRANK E. WILSON
Pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Chicago

ence, archaeology, history and common sense, and would be discarded as a relic of outworn credulity.

But the situation has notably changed. So-called contradictions have been found unreal. From a constructive standpoint the Bible is more widely recognized than ever. No man is considered educated unless he has a knowledge of this book.

According to the latest authentic returns from publishers the Bible is the "best seller" on the market today.

The bugbear of "higher criticism" has been laid to rest. Its radical claims have been modified and its net results are a girl to the world of a context of historic investigation in which the Bible has an enriched value and deeper meaning than ever before.

Its rough treatment at the hands of its critics has been the dispelling of superstitions about it. There is, to be sure, a sacrilegious handling of the Bible that is degrading, but there is in human nature also a "fearful awe" which can overcome superstition.

We want a sane, healthy, reverent approach to this book of books. Use it right and it will bring you patience, comfort and hope.

Emphasis upon the Bible comes to us at a time when the majority of our popular literature is of a questionable character. It caters too much to the morbid, sensational, abnormal side of life. It is unhealthy.

Contrast this vicious and neurotic type of modern literature with the sweet spirit of patience and hope generated by the Bible. Some day the world will sicken of the lurid appeals to its unwholesome weaknesses, and hungry souls will return to be fed at the hand of omnipotence.

Plea for Better Brand of Young Men

By REV. DR. FRANK A. HOSMER
Pastor of Central Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

There is no sight on earth so impressive as that of a young man eager for the struggle of life and anxious to try his mettle against the world. Young men are strong in their range of vision. The eye of the spirit sweeps wide horizons. Nothing seems beyond reach.

Youth is strong in adaptability to great tasks. To see is to act; to believe is to affirm; to know is to do. Some of the mightiest reforms and greatest deeds in the past have been wrought by young men. Washington, Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton, Henry Clay, John Quincy Adams, Napoleon, Bismarck, French physicians, and Luther are trite examples.

No young man can succeed unless his vision and enthusiasm are concentrated on a definite goal. Character and the purpose of his life are determining factors of success. Talent and genius alone will not pave the road to success.

I plead for a consecrated purpose in your life. This gives you strength to resist the evil. No young man can truly master himself unless there be in him an ideal controlled by conservation to a high purpose. Uncontrolled passions will ruin him.

The age cries out for a better brand of young men, and there was never a better day for youth than the present. It is not creed that he needs so much as an experience. Not a restraint, but an inspiration. Not an insurance for the next world, but a program for this world.

Heed the call for service. Join in the great march toward brotherhood that is now thrilling the church. Dare to be a Christian in the finest, loftiest and noblest sense.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 11.

THE MISSION OF THE SEVENTY.

LESSON TEXT.—Luke 10:1-24.
GOLDEN TEXT.—"It is not ye that speak, but the spirit of your Father that speaketh in you."—Matt. 10:20.

Jesus "came unto his own and his own received him not." Rejected in Judea, he turned to Galilee, making his headquarters at Capernaum only to be rejected there also. "After these things" (v. 1.) e. g., after his final departure from Galilee, and as he was about to perform his Perean ministry. The ministry of Jesus is rapidly hastening to a close, still there is much work to do, hence the selection of those who shall go before him to prepare for what proved to be in each city and town his last visit.

1. The Seventy Sent (vv. 1-9). Verse one tells us of the character of the work they were to undertake, viz., to be heralds; to prepare the people against his coming, 2 Cor. 5:20. There is a plenitude of work, but, "the laborers are few." They were sent to a particular people, "whither he himself would come," 2 Tim. 4:8; Titus 2:13. No matter what may have been their limitations, the "coming one" would supply all deficiencies. Jesus commanded prayer, but also sent forth those same praying ones (vv. 2, 3).

Prayer and work go hand in hand in a sane Christian experience. Every impression demands sufficient expression, if it is to make any lasting contribution to our characters. The large harvest demands attention. We are sent into that harvest by the King himself, "Behold I send you;" and those whom he sends are not compelled to labor alone, Matt. 28:20; John 14:16. Jesus mentions four things about those whom he sends:

Like Lambs.

(1) Their character. They are to be like "lambs." We have just had the figure of "laborers" presented, laborers who were sent. Is this then a mixed simile? We think not. We are to go forth to the harvesting work as laborers, that is our work, but, in our characters, we are to be lamb-like. (2) Their environment. "among wolves." That is to say, surrounding each harvest field, and frequently encroaching as far as they dare, are the wolves, a type of the evil one and of his agents. Those who go thus into, or by the way of, danger will not carry any excess of baggage, 2 Tim. 2:4. (3) In the third place, they are to go forth with complete dependence upon God's providing care (v. 4). The exact letter of these instructions is not always incumbent upon his ambassadors, chapter 22:35, 36, but the spirit of absolute faith in a Father who will provide, must always possess his representatives.

4. As to their bearing, it must be that of dignity and self-respect (v. 5). Social demands consume a great deal of energy in diplomatic circles, and it is here that many Christians waste precious energy, as well as becoming involved in worldly practices. Their first thought upon entering a house must be for the good of the home (v. 5), not for their personal comfort. If a "son of peace" (v. 6), dwell there, one to whom peace rightfully belonged, their benediction would bring to that home a blessing. But if he be not there their peace was not to be lost, for it would return to the giver.

(5) Their mission was to offer, not to force acceptance. They were not heggara, going from house to house (v. 7), they had something worth while and were worthy of their hire. The fawning, cringing sycophants that pass for Christian workers stand rebuked before this teaching. However, this does not sanction the dogmatic, domineering methods of some. They are to accept what is offered (v. 8), not demanding, "a worthy compensation." The church of Christ stands condemned for the meager salaries given its representatives, yet it is also true that a man usually, and in the long run, gets about what he is worth. God's Truth.

To build up character brings a far richer compensation, and more lasting results, than to obtain earthly prestige, ease or wealth. Therefore the ambassador of Christ can afford to wait with glad certainty the final casting up of accounts, accepting in the meantime the lowlier seats among men, Luke 14:7-14. However, these ambassadors do have an exalted work to perform. They had a commission for both body and soul. The Gospel of Christ is for the whole man (v. 9). To minister to the bodies of men must however be accompanied by the heralding of the coming kingdom. That kingdom, which is everlastingly to be visible upon earth, Dnn. 2:44.

11. The Seventy Received (vv. 10-16). These heralds were to proclaim that the kingdom was "nigh unto you." In this section we have set before us not only the probable manner whereby the ambassadors may be received, but also their attitude towards those who shall reject them. Jesus, by his anathemas pronounced upon Chorazin and Bethsaida (vv. 12-15), intimates what shall be the fate of those who reject the ambassadors of the King. He emphasizes this by saying (v. 16) that he is heard and despised when these, his representatives, are heard or despised.

POULTRY

DESTROY ALL AILING FOWLS

Disease Generally Attacks Most Susceptible of Flock and They Should Be Killed at Once.

(By M. F. GREELEY.)

Most ailing or diseased chickens or hens had better be killed than doctored. In the first place it is by far the quickest way. Again, it at once does away with any risk from contagion. Moreover a once sick hen, even if she does seem entirely recovered, seldom develops into a first class layer, and second class layers seldom pay.

There is another point, often overlooked. Disease generally attacks the weakest or most susceptible of the flock, and no flock was ever benefited by keeping in it birds of this kind when it is known they are such. It is true that now and then some trivial thing may all an otherwise strong bird, and it would be a mistake to give her no opportunity to recover. We have had cases of limberneck, humble foot or slight lameness or cold, that yielded promptly to treatment. A few drops of pain killer or other hot drink seems to work on limberneck even more quickly than on a cold, and opening the swelling and applying some cleansing healing wash has been about all we have ever found necessary for humble foot.

But, as a rule, ailing hens or chicks, particularly if they persist at all in ailing, we think had better be killed and burned or buried deeply.

WHY SOME POULTRYMEN FAIL

Lack of Thorough Investigation Before Taking Up Industry Has Been Usual Cause of Failure.

While there is a great profit in raising poultry, failure of special poultry farms is frequently reported.

Lack of proper investigation before going into the enterprise has been the usual cause of lack of success. Then, too, perhaps, bad locations, lack of the necessary amount of capital, careless investment, improper choice of breeds and character of buildings had a great deal to do with the trouble.

Some of the essential features in the successful handling of a poultry farm are the development of the young stock, proper feeding, proper marketing, the right kind of labor, etc. Specialization in poultry is just as profitable as specialization in any other branch of agriculture. A careful account of expenses and receipts must be kept, so that a check can be made from time to time on the business. Moreover, poultry in small lots are very adaptable to people not in the best of health and particularly to women, who are adapted to the raising of farm fowls.

GRAIN NEEDED FOR POULTRY

Corn May Be Used as Food to Advantage, but It Must Be Supplemented With Something Else.

Grain is the staple food for poultry, and will be used for that purpose as long as fowls are kept on farms; but hens cannot give good results on grain alone. It is beneficial to them, says the Fruit Grower, and will be at all times relished, but the demand of the hens is such as will call for variety. In the shells of eggs, as well as their composition, are several forms of mineral matter and nitrogen, which can only be partially obtained from grain.

Even grains vary in composition, and when fowls are fed on one kind for a long time, they begin to refuse it, as they may be oversupplied with the elements in the food partaken and lack the elements that are best supplied from some other source. For this reason they will accept a change of food, which is of itself an evidence that the best results from hens can only be obtained by a variety of food. Corn and wheat may be used as food with advantage, but it must be given as portion of the ration only, and not made exclusive articles of diet.

Water for Ducks.

Ducks kept entirely on land must have deep drinking vessels, so they can get their heads under water. Where shallow vessels or troughs are used they gum up about the eyes, become listless, sit about, lose their appetites and eventually die.

Meat Food Lacking.

Feather-pulling fowls usually lack meat food.

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF THE CANADIAN WEST

The Cities of Western Canada Reflect the Growth of the Country.

As one passes through Western Canada, taking the City of Winnipeg as a starting point, and then keeping tab on the various cities and towns that line the network of railways that cover the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and covering the eyes as the gaze is bent on these it is felt that there must be "something of a country" behind it all. Then gaze any direction you like and the same view is presented. Field after field of waving grain, thousands and hundreds of thousands of them. Firm hands and laborers are at work converting the virgin prairie with more fields. Pasture land in every direction on which cattle are feeding, thriving and fattening on the grasses that are rich in both milk and beef properties, but it is unfortunate that more cattle are not seen. That, however, is correcting itself. Here we have in a large measure, the evidence of the wealth that helps to build up the cities, and it should not be forgotten that the cities themselves have as citizens young men who have come from other parts, and brought with them the experience that has taught them to avoid the mistakes of eastern and southern cities. They also are imbued with the western spirit of enterprise, energy and push, and so Western Canada has its cities. At a banquet recently given in Chicago, a number of prominent citizens of Winnipeg were guests. Among the speakers was Mayor Deacon of Winnipeg. In speaking of the remarkable growth of that city, which in thirty years has risen from a population of 2,000 to one of 200,000, he spoke of it as being the gateway of commerce and continued:

"Now, how great that tide of commerce is you will have some conception of when I tell you that the wheat alone grown in the three prairie provinces this year is sufficient to keep a steady stream of one thousand bushels per minute continuously night and day going to the head of the lakes for three and one-half months, and in addition to that the oats and barley would supply this stream for another four months.

"The value of the grain crop alone grown in the three prairie provinces would be sufficient to build any of our great transcontinental railroads and all their equipment, everything connected with them, from ocean to ocean.

"Now, if we are able to do this with only ten per cent. of our arable land under cultivation what will our possibilities be when 285,000,000 acres of the best land that the sun shines on is brought under the plow? Do you not see the portent of a great, vigorous, populous nation living under those sunny skies north of the 49th parallel? And if with our present development we are able to do as we are doing now, to purchase a million dollars' worth of goods from you every day of the year, what will our trade be worth when we have fully developed the country?

"Now, who shall assist us to develop this great empire that is there? Shall it be the alien races of southern Europe or shall it be men of our own blood and language? In the last three fiscal years no less than 358,000 American farmers have come into Western Canada, bringing with them goods and cash to the value of $350,000,000. And I want to say here that no man who sets foot on our shores is more entirely and heartily welcome than the agriculturist from the south.

"So long as these conditions remain I consider that this is the best guarantee that the sword will never again be drawn in anger between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race. The grain crops of Western

Orderly Service.

A Methodist parson, called to preach at an out-of-the-way town in California was informed, before entering the pulpit, that he must be careful, as many of the assembled congregation were "roughs," and would not hesitate to pull him from the pulpit if his remarks did not suit them.

The minister made no reply, but having reached the sacred desk, he took from his pocket two revolvers, and placing one on each side of the Bible, gave a sharp glance around the room and said: "Let us pray."

A more orderly service was never held.—National Monthly.

IS EPILEPSY CONQUERED?

New Jersey Physician Said to Have Many Cures to His Credit.

Red Bank, N. J. (Special).—Advice from every direction fully confirms previous reports that the remarkable treatment for epilepsy being administered by Dr. Perkins of this city, is achieving wonderful results. Old and stubborn cases have been greatly benefited and many patients claim to have been entirely cured.

Persons suffering from epilepsy should write at once to Dr. H. W. Perkins, Branch 49, Red Bank, N. J., for a supply of the remedy which is being distributed gratuitously.—Adv.

Individual Clock.

A gentleman in a club in Grand Rapids, Mich., formed the hopeless and harmless habit of taking too much to drink—alcoholically speaking—before he went home every evening, says the Popular Magazine.

"How does he know what time to go home?" asked a stranger in the club one night.

"It's this way," exclaimed a member. "He goes to the head of that long flight of stairs leading to the street. If he falls down them, he knows it's time to go home."

Evolution of Billiards. The development of the billiard table has been interesting. In those far back days when billiards seem first to have become an indoor game, a billiard table was about the size of a big room. The average table was 30 feet long and 18 feet wide. The size was gradually and irregularly decreased, until the present standard 9-foot table was introduced at a billiard tournament held in Samson hall, Philadelphia, in 1864.

THE MODERN MAID.

It was getting late at night when the servant girl returned from the shops with various domestic purchases. As she explained the transaction to her mistress she cried out suddenly: "There! If I haven't forgotten the 'am nn' eggs for breakfast."

"That's a pity," observed the mistress, but added, with kindly philosophy: "Never mind. The shops will all be shut now. We shall have to manage in the morning with bread and butter and marmalade."

The girl stared.

"And what shall I have?" she inquired.

"Well, Ellen, I suppose you'll have the same as we do," replied the mistress.

"Yes, Mrs. X," responded Ellen, with some severity; "but let me tell you I can't do my work unless I'm properly fed."—Manchester Guardian.

TRUST AND MONOPOLY.

Tom—She tells me she has a perfect trust in you.

Dick—Well, she has a perfect monopoly of me.

Breaking It Gently.

"I've come to tell you, Mrs. Malone, that your husband met with an accident."

"An' what is it now?" wailed Mrs. Malone.

"He was overcome by the heat, mum."

"Overcome by the heat, was he? An' how did it happen?"

"He fell into the furnace over at the foundry, mum."—Independent.

Voices of the Night.

"Maria, there isn't half enough cover on this bed!"

"John, I suppose you've left our best umbrella at the office, as usual."

"I wish somebody would kill that infernal cat!"

"Henry! Henry! Wake up! There's a ring at the telephone!"

"There! I forgot to put out a 'No Milk This Morning' card!"

After the Honeymoon.

"What are you thinking of, Beatrice?" inquired Mr. Halner of his wife one morning while they were at breakfast.

"I am dreaming of my youth," replied the woman.

"Well," replied the brute, "I thought you had a far-away look in your eyes."

Domestic Amenities.

"I was a fool ever to marry you!" sobbed Mrs. Winks.

"Now, my dear," said Winks solemnly, "I cannot permit you to take the blame for that. It was I who was the fool for ever asking you. The mistake was not yours, but mine."—Harp-er's Weekly.

HARD ON HIM.

"We want you to make a speech at this banquet. Just talk a lot of nonsense, you know."

"Oh, no; really, I couldn't."

"Yes, you can. I don't know any fellow better qualified to do it than yourself."

Nothing Strange.

Mrs. Jeaner Lee Oudego—I saw your husband's name in the papers this morning. He had just made a generous donation, I think, to the—

Mrs. Gaddabout (interrupting)—Street fund? Yes, I saw it. Over-speeding. Fifty dollars and costs this time. What a pretty job you are making!

All Sorts.

Some want to lead in time of need, And some prefer to follow, Some want to climb and be sublime, And some prefer to wallow.

Just the Opposite.

Lewis Cass Ledyard was talking in New York about a muckraker of a new type.

"I've never heard any good of him," he said. "Even when I've thought I heard a word in his favor, it has always proved the opposite when traced to its source."

"It's like the case of the office boy whose master said: 'Willie is slow and sure.' 'Slow and sure, eh?' 'Yes, slow to learn, sure to forget.'"

Truly Graphic.

There was a change of curates in the parish, and shortly after one of the prominent men of the congregation asked his chauffeur: "How do you like the new curate, Barac?"

"Middlin'," replied Barney, "but he can't come up to the old one. 'Twas himself could tell ye all about hell. Shure, to hear him describin' it, you'd think he was bred, born and reared there."—Harp-er's Magazine.

And Proud of It.

Mrs. Malone was before the judge, charged with assault on Policeman Casey. She had been unusually attentive throughout the proceedings, and now the judge was summing up the evidence.

"The evidence shows, Mrs. Malone," he began, "that you threw a stone at Policeman Casey."

"It shows more than that, yer honor," interrupted Mrs. Malone. "It shows that I hit him."

HIS SCHEME.

The Reformer—Money is the cause of a great deal of corruption.

The Politician—Yes; it's a pity we can't all be millionaires and be beyond the reach of temptation.

Slightly Obtuse.

"It is astonishing how much information a man can pick up while loafing in a hotel lobby."

"Yes, indeed, but there is one particular bit of knowledge that the average hotel loafer never seems to acquire."

"And what is that?"

"The fact that his room is more desirable to the management than his company."

Bibleless, Not Bihulous.

A Massachusetts minister was making his first visit to Kentucky several years ago. He had to spend the night in a small mountain town where feuds and moonshine stills abounded. Engaging in conversation with one of the natives, he said:

"My friend, this is a very bihulous state, I hear."

"Lord!" replied the man; "there hasn't 25 Bibles in all Kentucky."—Exchange.

An Exception.

"I have no use for people who do you favors and then expect something in return."

"Oh, I wouldn't blame anybody who sent me something good to eat or drink on a silver platter for expecting the return of the platter."

"Brown—Well, as I was saying, I'll try to get down to see you—swat—got him that time—next Saturday."

Late in Life.

Some men don't learn True savoir-faire, 'Till they've lost 'Bout all their hair.

The Wrong Hunch.

"Yes," he was saying, "as a matter of fact, a man doesn't learn what happiness really is until he is married."

"I'm glad you've discovered that at last," replied she, with visions of immediate proposal.

"Yes," he continued; "and when he's married it's too late."—Brooklyn Citizen.

ITS WORK WELL DONE

Republican National Committee to Be Complimented.

Amicable Understanding Reached Means Much for the Future—Democratic Administration Already Has Lost Confidence.

There will be no special national convention of the Republican party next spring.

Southern representation will be restricted in the regular national convention of 1916, subject to ratification by two-thirds of the states which elected Taft electors in 1908.

All state primary laws will be recognized and all delegates who had certificates from state canvassing boards will be put upon the temporary roll of the 1916 convention.

Such are the main results of the meeting of the Republican national committee in Washington.

There was no cut and dried program. Everything was thrashed out, beginning with the question of the power of the national committee to make the proposed changes as against the proposition to call a special convention. The convention plan lost by a vote of 25 states to 14, and then the resolution to make the change by action of the committee was carried by a viva voce vote that was practically unanimous.

As an example of the thoroughness of the thrashing-out process it may be mentioned that Senator Horah of Idaho fought the convention plan and former Governor Hadley of Missouri argued in its favor. Both are considered in some quarters to be presidential possibilities. Senator Cummins of Iowa, also a presidential hopeful, was admitted to the conference and spoke for the convention. Representative Woods of Iowa, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, was also invited to take part in the national committee's meeting.

It seems certain that the next Republican platform is now being made by a Democratic administration which has already lost public confidence, which has already depressed business and which has already furnished proof of the infinite capacity of the Democratic party for making mistakes. Senator Smoot of Utah evoked applause when he said that when the question was asked as to what was the matter with smokeless chimneys on every hand the answer should be placed on the closed factory doors: "Wilson—that's all."

Anyway, be these things as they may, the national Republican committee is evidently able to work in harmony and has apparently decided important questions without ructions of any kind. This is certainly a significant condition of affairs and would seem largely to justify the optimistic prophecies of reunited ranks and victories in 1914 and 1916 by the leaders in attendance.

Turned From Prosperity's Path.

It matters not in what direction one turns, the same mournful symbols of a letting up of prosperity are observable. Every true American could wish that the Democrats might have the success they have claimed for their policies, and the reaction might be avoided. Nothing could be more deplorable than the setting down of the gloom of hard times upon an era that has been redolent with prosperity despite the manifold defects that have characterized these times.

Country Is for Protection.

Let us all hope and pray that, as Mr. Wilson's term draws toward its close, the worst that can be said of his tariff will be that it failed to work its promised miracle on the coast of living. But, to state it as mildly as possible, we are afraid it has not done general business any good up to the present time.

After all, this is a protectionist country—as Mr. Wilson himself once admitted in a burst of candor.—Exchange.

Trust in Republican Minority.

The various matters included in the message of the president will be portions of the legislative program of the session, and despite the fact that so much populist matters enters into these things, the country is hoping for guidance through the wisdom of a determined and patriotic minority in the senate. The Republican party views the ultra program of the Democrats with satisfaction, seeing in it a forecast of return to power at an early date.

Died Young.

Will the American Association for the Study of Infant Mortality, in session at Washington, take up the pathetic case of the young Bull Moose party?—Boston Transcript.

Has Read Its Signs Aright.

One by one the roses fall in the bull moose garden. Mr. Prudengast, who fought at Armageddon, has announced his retirement. He says a third party is not wanted and we guess he is about right.

It Doesn't Try.

The Democratic administration seems unable to apply its high cost of living remedies to the expense of running the government.—Wall Street Journal.

GAS GAS GAS

It would sound sensible if the Cumberland Gas Company would do themselves, as well as the general public, the favor of cutting down the waste of gas. It is an evident fact that there has never been any gas well that did not become exhausted, and as a matter of fact our well will soon become exhausted, so why not begin now, cut out your gas fireplaces and put your grates back in, put in heating stoves, in place of your gas heaters, save all the gas we have for cooking and lighting purposes; you will have it to do, don't wait for Mr. Newitt to come and tell you to do it, he will have it to do, so get busy.

DOGS A PUBLIC NUISANCE

Again it is our unpleasant duty to invite attention of the city authorities and the public generally to the great number of unmuzzled dogs that throng our streets night and day to the menace of people, women and children especially, who have occasion to be out of their homes at all, to say nothing of the constant dread of parents whose children attend the schools and require to go along the thoroughfares. It is unnecessary to say that one who would enjoy the privilege of possessing a canine should assume the obligation of curing for it in such manner as the municipal laws of all well regulated cities demand, so that it may not be a disgrace to the municipality and a detriment to all proper interests. It goes without saying to the observant that a measure of hatred of his neighbors attaches to the character of any one who will keep a brute unmuzzled where children are obliged to be daily exposed to have the image of their Maker torn out of their innocent faces through this unrestricted nuisance. Even the capital of the "unspeakable" Turk, Constantinople, has recently shown sufficient regard for public safety and decency to banish or muzzle its dogs.

Circuit Court convened here Monday with the usual large attendance, with Hon F D Sampson presiding Judge, and Hon Joseph B Snyder, Commonwealth's attorney. The docket is light in penal cases, but more felonies than usual.

The Grand Jury are as follow:

E J Miller, G D McDonald, J W Mills, J W Cottengim, Elijah Wilkenson, Pleas Bryant, Caleb Powers, James Franc, W C Warren, Read Hughes, Peter Jarvis, and Thomas Murphy.

The instructions given by the court were very rigid, and it is believed that they will make many indictments.

The Petit Jury is as follows:

No. 1—George Carpenter, A J Fergusson, Green Edwards, James Terrill, Marshal Hulburt, Henry Gibson, Darlin Brock, James Gregory, Tommy Broughton, John Patterson, W H Broughton, and Boyd Cobb.

No. 2—Jasper Willis, Lee Thomas, John T Mills, Wesley Burnett, John A Jones, Isaac Warren, Charley Barnes, Manti Cobb, Henry Jordan, I B Hooper, Bart Tuttle, Henry Payne.

Reserve—Calvin Miller, Richard Smith, Peter Baker, Ewell Messer, Boyd Hart.

The Grand Jury returned an indictment against Nollie and Lee Henderson, charging them with murder, they are represented by Sawyer A Smith, and the case is set for today. The Grand Jury returned an indictment against George Neal, charged with murdering another negro, at Wheeler, Ky, his case was called, and, he being unable to employ an attorney, the court appointed Atty. S T Steele and V C McDonald to defend him. On the case was passed on today.

January 1st, 1914, traffic heavy, transportation in demand, excursion rates, one fare plus 25c, tickets good for 365 days. The water wagon is a contrivance propelled by imagination upon which men and sometimes women, mount for a safe journey to temperance, over a rough and crooked road, a distance of 365 miles, and make one round trip each year. The man who gets aboard usually gets off at the first station, some, of course, goes further. Some get off because they have business, and some fall off, because they are out of balance, and some stay to the last, but the latter are few. The trip is sometimes delayed by ice, sometimes by fog, usually White Hog, and sometimes by other things, and usually the man who is most anxious to get on is the easiest gotten off.

Little Miss Helen Sampson had quite an elaborate entertainment, last Friday, inviting many of her little friends and they sure did have some time. Miss Helen is some entertainer too, well, a Sampson does not have to be large to do things, just any little Sampson has large ways.

HUSBAND RESCUED
DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catrod, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its helping me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 30 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

URGES U. S. POWER

SAMUEL UNTERMYER ASKS FEDERAL BODY TO RULE AS CURB TO COMBINES.

CENSURES "ONE MAN" IDEA

Pujo Inquiry Counsel, Speaking in Chicago, Requests Executive Commission to Administer Law as Remedy—Cites Standard Oil Case.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—A powerful federal executive body to administer the Sherman anti-trust law is the prime remedy for the country's financial ills, according to the statement of Samuel Untermyer on Monday at a luncheon of the Illinois Manufacturers' association here. Mr. Untermyer was the counsel for the Pujo committee, which recently investigated the "money trust." The subject of his address was "A Legislative Program to Restore Business Freedom and Confidence."

Mr. Untermyer ridiculed the court "dissolution" of the Standard Oil trust as "flagrant and pitiful," with no restoration of competition among the component companies. He also gave warning against lodging in the attorney general the power of negotiating "consent decrees" like that which has broken up the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

There must be, however, he said, an executive authority to assist the courts and the attorney general in the practical application of laws to liberate business from the thralldom of illegal combinations, and this authority Mr. Untermyer would give to the industrial commission. The speaker did not recommend any plan for the appointment of the commission.

Mr. Untermyer directed the attention of the business men who heard him to the fact that anti-trust legislation is the next big problem in which the national administration must devote its energies. Business men, he said, should cooperate with congress in a spirit of patriotism and not in the attitude of hostile criticism which characterizes utterances by banking organizations and individual leaders before the passage of the income tax and currency measures.

In addition to a law for the industrial commission, Mr. Untermyer said congress should pass bills embodied in the 22 recommendations of the Pujo committee, dealing with banks, interlocking directorates, stock exchanges, clearing houses and the administration of the Sherman act.

At one point, talking about "dummy" directors, he referred to the withdrawal of the house of Morgan from participation in the affairs of 28 corporations and said it is "most unsatisfactory."

BRITAIN SHIFTS SIR CARDEN

Diplomat at Mexico City Gave Interview Reflecting on American Policy in Mexico.

London, Jan. 7.—Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, is shortly to be transferred to Rio de Janeiro as minister to Brazil. The successor to Sir Lionel at Mexico City will probably be Charles Murray Merling, senior counselor in the British diplomatic service, now accredited to Turkey. Although no reason for the change is given at the foreign office the transfer of Sir Lionel Carden recalls several instances of friction with Washington since he has been at Mexico City. One grew out of Sir Lionel's action in presenting his credentials to Huerta on the day after President Wilson had formally communicated to the Mexican ruler his determination never to recognize his government. Another was a published interview in which the British minister was quoted as saying the American representatives in Mexico "did not understand conditions."

SUPREME COURT O. K.'S LAW

U. S. Tribunal Upholds Regulations Governing Pure Food and Drugs Act.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Declaring valid the regulations made by the federal food and drugs board for adulterating the pure food and drugs law, and extending its scope, the Supreme court of the United States on Monday held that all packages of drugs must state on their labels, not only whether they contain certain drugs specified in the law itself, but also a large number of derivatives of these drugs suggested by the board.

States can hold safe deposit companies responsible for the collection of inheritance taxes or possession held in the safe deposit boxes of patrons, according to a decision of the Supreme court. The constitutionality of an Illinois law placing responsibility on these companies was sustained.

Financial District as Well as Country Thrilled at Move of Financiers.

New York, Jan. 6.—The withdrawal Friday of J. P. Morgan & Co. from more than a score of great corporations, and the statement shortly afterward by George F. ### STATE BANKS LOSE OUT

Cannot Take Advantage of Federal Reserve Act, According to Attorney General Grant Fellows.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 5.—Attorney General Grant Fellows gave E. H. Doyle, state banking commissioner, an opinion that state banks cannot take advantage of the federal reserve act. The attorney general bases his opinion on the following grounds: First—State banks cannot hold stock in other corporations. Second—State banks cannot loan their credit to other banks. Third—Permission given in the federal reserve act to state banks does not supersede the state law which does not permit state banks to hold stock in other banks.

NO TRUCE IN STRIKE

REFUSAL OF OWNERS TO RECOGNIZE MINERS' UNION AS PARTY TO PEACE IS CAUSE.

U. S. MEDIATOR QUILTS TASK

Grand Jury Starts Investigation of Kidnaping and Shooting of Charles Moyer While He Was at Hancock, Mich.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 7.—Governor Ferris has taken hold of the strike situation in the copper country. With his coming Monday a practical truce went into effect and both sides expressed a willingness to await his findings before initiating new measures in the industrial warfare.

John B. Densmore of the department of labor announced on Saturday that his efforts to end the strike of copper miners by conciliation had failed after he had made a final effort to bring the warring factions together.

He did not hesitate to blame his failure upon the uncompromising attitude of the mine owners, who refused to recognize the Western Federation of Miners as a party to arbitration proceedings or other peace projects.

"In a nutshell, the question was whether the union men should go back to work with or without discrimination. The companies refused to do anything but discriminate against members of the union," said Mr. Densmore.

"It means a struggle to the bitter end," said O. N. Hilton, chief of counsel of the Western Federation of Miners, who has represented President C. H. Moyer here since the latter's deportation. "The outcome is due entirely to the attitude of the companies. They wanted everything and would concede nothing."

The union's last word was an offer to withdraw the Western Federation from the field, its place to be taken by a union affiliated with the Michigan Federation of Labor, the United Mine Workers, with which the Western Federation of Miners is affiliated, or some similar body. This was rejected absolutely by the companies. Word of the negotiations was telegraphed to the secretary of labor by Mr. Densmore. He said that a full report of the efforts made would be made by him after his return to Washington.

The Houghton county grand jury was specially charged by Judge H. H. O'Brien of the circuit court to investigate the kidnaping of Moyer. Moyer was forcibly deported, beaten and shot.

"If the jury believes there is reasonable amount of evidence pointing toward persons connected with the kidnaping, they are to be investigated and indicted," Judge O'Brien charged. The grand jury is made up of James MacNaughton's chauffeur, Edgar Iye, several mine superintendents and two Socialists. The evidence is being placed before the grand jury by George Nichols, a special prosecutor appointed by Governor Ferris to conduct the investigation.

32 DEAD IN TORNADO

GALE IS STILL RAGING ON ATLANTIC COAST.

Tank Steamer Oklahoma Sinks and Eight Are Rescued—Five Lives Lost in Hurricane.

New York, Jan. 7.—The oil tank steamer Oklahoma broke in two amidships without warning south of Sandy Hook Monday and 32 of her crew of 40 men perished.

The stern section, in which was situated all the heavy machinery of the vessel, and on which there were 32 members of the crew, sank immediately. Eight members of the crew were rescued by the Hamburg-American line steamer Havaria, whose captain says some of the Oklahoma's men told him they saw an open boat of the Oklahoma put away from the wreck with ten men in it.

Five lives were lost in the hurricane that swept the coast from Portland, Me., to Norfolk, Va., Saturday. One million dollars' damage was done.

The New Jersey coast has suffered the greatest damage, but with the shifting of the wind the high water, which threatened to wash away thousands of houses on the New Jersey coast, was partially removed.

At Atlantic City a 500-foot extension of the million-dollar pier has been carried away and nearly a mile of the board walk at Chelton, adjoining Atlantic City, has been washed away. The sea has undermined a number of costly homes in Chelton and a large portion of the sea wall there has been washed away. The board walk of Atlantic City was damaged.

Nearly all of the streets at Atlantic City are flooded and the electric light plant there, as well as nearly every town along the New Jersey coast, has been put out of commission and the cities and two towns are in total darkness.

A man died of exhaustion at Seabright, N. J., and two women were killed in Brooklyn as a result of the storm.

Nearly 200 persons are homeless.

MINISTER FIGHTS FLAMES.

Camden, N. J.—Rushing half-shaven out of a barber shop when he learned that his church was afire, Rev. Michael Di Loyal ran into the blazing edifice of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel and fought the flames until the arrival of the firemen. The fire started from a Christmas tree that was being dismantled causing in contact with a lighted candle on the altar. The blaze rapidly spread to all parts of the church, and when the firemen arrived they found the priest bravely trying to quench the flames single-handed at the risk of his safety. The damage was small.

1913 RECORD

Magnificent Crops in all Western Canada

All parts of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, have produced wonderful yields of Wheat, Oats, Barley and Flax. Wheat graded from Contract to No. 1 Hard, weighed heavy and yielded from 20 to 45 bushels per acre; 22 bushels was about the total average. Mixed Farming may be considered fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. In 1912, and again in 1913, at Chicago, Manitoba carried off the Championship for beef steer. Good schools, markets, convenient, climate excellent. For the homesteader, the man who wishes to farm extensively, or the investor, Canada offers the biggest opportunity of any place on the continent.

KENTUCKY HILLS TREASURE-TROVE

NEW RECORD FOR PRODUCTION OF COAL SHOWN BY SUMMARY.

EASTERN FIELD TO FORE

Geological Survey Report Sets Out
Enormous Riches That Have Been Brought to Surface, and Forecasts
Millions More.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Louisville, Ky.—The report of the United States Geological Survey on the production of non-metallic minerals in Kentucky is a tale of hundreds of millions of dollars having been taken out of treasure-crowded hills in 1912 and a forecast of billions more. How the state teems with coal, coke, limestone, spar, natural gas and various other valuable yields of the soil; how Eastern Kentucky has developed during the past year; how Kentucky broke the world's coal "record"—all these things are told in the huge volume of over 1,200 pages, a summary of which has been received here. One of the most remarkable statements is that detailing how Eastern Kentucky coal mines, in 1912, for the first time, exceeded the yield of those in Western Kentucky. The survey experts declare that the western field will never regain the ascendancy.

The production in short tons is shown to have been:

1911—Total quantity, 14,049,703; total value, $30,008,458; average price per ton, 99c.

1912—Total quantity, 16,490,521; total value, $16,854,207; average price per ton, $1.02.

Rank of Kentucky—Fifth in coal production; seventh in coal value in 1912.

In speaking of Kentucky as a coal state the survey says in part:

"Kentucky is the only one of the coal-producing states which has within its borders areas belonging to any two of the great coal fields. The eastern counties of the state are underlain by the coal beds of the great Appalachian Mountain system, extending entirely across the state in a north-east-southwest direction, while the southern limits of the central or eastern interior field are found in the more northern counties of the western part of the state."

"The production of coal in Kentucky established a new record in 1912 with a total of 16,490,521 short tons, an increase of 2,440,818 tons, or 17.4 per cent over 1911, and of 1,867,202 tons over the maximum output of 1910. The value increased $2,845,749, or 20.3 per cent, from $14,008,458 in 1911 to $16,854,207 in 1912."

MILITIA CALLED OUT IN LETCHER

Whitesburg, Ky.—Rivalry between friends of banks having candidates for treasurer of Letcher county, to be elected by the fiscal court, created a situation so acute that the local company of militia was called out. In his order for military intervention, Judge John Fitzpatrick stated that "an unlawful assembly" was in possession of the court house and attempting to hold a special session of the county court, and that peace officers had refused to obey his orders.

Warrants charging confederating and intimidation were issued by Judge Fitzpatrick and bonds were required of two magistrates, a former county judge and two other prominent citizens. The guards took possession of the order book of the court.

Later in the day Judge Fitzpatrick received a message from Governor McCreary directing that the militia be relieved of duty, and saying that a county judge had authority to assemble in posse but was without authority to call out the state guard. Feeling has subsided, and further trouble is not expected.

INTEREST TURNS TO LEGISLATION

MANY PROPOSED LAWS AWAIT
ACTION BY THE KENTUCKY
ASSEMBLY.

RAILROAD BILL IS IN LIST

Child Labor, Tax Reform and School
System Prominent Among Subjects of Measures Prepared Which Affect the Public Generally.

(By Ernest W. Helm.)

Frankfort, Ky.—With preliminaries to the session of the general assembly disposed of, public interest has shifted to a flood of legislation which already has been written into bills. Proposed measures that attract early attention cover a wide variety of subjects. Embodied in the list are bills extending the authority of the railroad commission; providing for state control of the traffic in stocks and bonds; prescribing more stringent regulations for motor vehicles; increase in the state school license; abolishing third-class certificates for school teachers; exacting a license from veterinarians; further regulating child labor; changing the method of forfeiting property for delinquency; affecting public highways; amending the form of commission government and a bill changing the school text book system.

Railroad Bill Defended.

Provisions of the proposed law looking to an extension of the authority of the state railroad commission are championed in a statement issued by Laurence B. Finn, chairman of the body. Mr. Finn denies that this bill is intended "to harass the railroads," and declares that it is based on urgent needs of the state, and designed only to make the railroads fulfill their duties to the public.

He says: "Common carriers are required to furnish reasonably adequate service and facilities and the charges for same shall be reasonable. They shall receive, switch, deliver, store and handle such property in a reasonable manner and for a just and reasonable compensation. All classifications, regulations, rules and practices which are not reasonable, and all services and facilities which are not safe and adequate are declared to be unlawful, and authority is given to the commission to provide a reasonable classification, regulation, rule and practice, and safe and adequate service and facilities."

Veterinary Surgeons' License.

Veterinary surgeons must have a state license in order to practice in this state or be liable to a fine of $50 and imprisonment for two months, if a bill to be introduced becomes a law. The bill provides for a board of four members, appointed by the governor, one of them to be the commissioner of agriculture, and the others to have been practicing veterinary surgeons of good standing for five years and graduates of a school of veterinary surgery. The board is to conduct the first examination the last Monday in August of each year, commencing in August, 1914.

Third-class certificates entitling the holders to teach in the rural schools of this state will be abolished if the amendment to the school law as prepared by Superintendent of Public Instruction Harkdale Hamlett is passed.

Prospective Labor Bills.

Amendments to the child labor law, a workmen's compensation act, a law regulating fire escapes, a law requiring the registration of all factories, compulsory reports of all accidents in factories to the commissioner of agriculture and labor, and extension of the free employment bureau are some of the things Commissioner of Agriculture John W. Newman hopes to get from the next legislature.

At a conference in Louisville he sought the co-operation of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, the Consumers' League, the Kentucky Child Labor association, the Ben Franklin club, the Kentucky Manufacturers and Shippers' association, the Woman's Progressive Service league and the Kentucky Federation of Labor. It was agreed that each of the organizations shall be represented by three members at another conference to be held in Frankfort January 12.

Appeal By Suffragists.

The Fayette Equal Rights association, in a meeting at Lexington, voted to send letters to city and county members of the new Kentucky house of representatives, and to the hold-over senator from Fayette county, requesting them to vote for the submission of a constitutional amendment giving Kentucky women the right to vote.

Tax Reform Bill Drawn.

"Tax sharks" are expected to be put out of business by the tax reform bill, drafted by the state tax commission, through a provision changing the manner of forfeiting property for delinquency. Hereafter, if the provision is adopted, property will not be forfeited for non-payment of taxes until the end of five years, and then the title will vest, absolutely in the commonwealth. Each year the owner is delinquent the fact will be noted and the property sold, no one but the commonwealth being allowed to bid for it.

MISS M. ANNIE POAGE

Miss Poage is a newspaper woman connected with the Daily Independent at Ashland, Ky. Miss Poage is well known as an ad writer and was one of the speakers at the mid-winter meeting of the Kentucky Press association. She made quite a hit with her subject, "Mountain Prints."

"Blue-Sky" Law Ready.

A "blue-sky law," patterned after the Kansas law, controlling the method of selling stocks, bonds and securities, will be introduced at the incoming legislature by Representative Elwood Hamilton, of this city. The bill exempts national and state banks and building associations. In the proposed act all dealers in stocks and bonds are required to take out a license with the state bank commissioner, and heavy penalties, fines of from $1,000 to $5,000 and imprisonment in the penitentiary are provided for promoters of bogus mining stock, exploiters of insurance companies where too large commission is taken out for the sale of the stock, and, besides, the agents selling the stock are liable in a suit for the recovery of the principal and interest. Real estate agents selling real estate outside the state must file an abstract of the title to the property to be sold with the county clerk or they will be guilty of violating the law.

County Commission Bill.

Word comes from Louisville that the legislative committee of the Commercial club has decided not to change the county commission bill with reference to the appointment of the first county commissioners by county judges, which had been criticized. It still favors the appointment of the first commissioners. The committee has issued a statement in which it says: "Inasmuch as the bill is not purely a local or Jefferson county bill, but is state-wide in its application, and will be the bill jointly offered and supported by the state-at-large, the Commercial club's committee should not attempt to change the verdict of the people of the state of Kentucky."

Bill Affects Text Books.

A new text-book bill promises to excite wide interest at this session of the legislature. Since 1900 the state adoption has been in vogue, the county boards voting and the action of a majority of them settling the question of text books in all the rural schools of the state. The law has been amended, providing for county adoption, but it has never been put in practice as the last state contract does not expire until this year. A bill will be introduced to change back to the old state adoption system with some modifications.

Hotel Inspection Measure.

Traveling men of Kentucky will make a fight before the session of the general assembly for a hotel inspection bill, requiring hotels to observe rules regarding the comfort and health of their guests, as to change of bed clothing, length of sheets, condition of towels, etc. This law is most urgently demanded by the traveling men, who make the smaller towns, where competition does not automatically bring about reforms.

Educational Organizers.

Active work to secure a large attendance at the spring meeting of the Kentucky Educational association has begun and two organizers will travel over the state during the next three months to arouse interest among the teachers. Five prizes of $5 each will be distributed among county and city superintendents who have the largest percentages of their teachers at the meeting.

Other School Legislation.

Another law prepared by Superintendent Hamlett gives any county court, or any justice's court or police court jurisdiction in all cases for violations of the law for the enforced attendance of children in the common and graded schools of this commonwealth. At present all of the cases are tried before the county judge. An amendment to Section 4369 of the Kentucky Statutes will abolish one of the examinations for common school diplomas.

Current History.

"So?"

ECZEMA BURNED AND ITCHED

203 Walnut St., Hillsboro, Ill.—"My child had a breaking out on the lower limbs which developed into eczema. The eczema began with pimples which contained yellow corruption and from the child's clothing they were greatly irritated. They seemed to burn, which made the child scratch them, resulting in a mass of open places. They made her so cross and fretful that it was impossible to keep her quiet. They caused her to lose much sleep and she was constantly tormented by severe itching and burning."

"I tried several well-known remedies, but got no relief until I got a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, which did so much good that I got a large quantity that cured her in ten days after she had been affected for two months." (Signed) Mrs. Edith Schwartz, Feb. 26, 1913.

Cruel Art of Warfare.

One hundred years ago General McClure, learning of the disastrous result of the American campaign in Lower Canada and tearing his own force would be attacked by the British resolved to evacuate Fort George and abandon the country. This he accordingly did with all his troops, and with such precipitancy that he left behind his tents and stores. His retreat was accompanied by an act that had left an indelible stigma upon his name. The frost had set in early and severe. The snow lay deep upon the ground. Yet at 36 minutes notice, of 150 houses in the Canadian village of Newark, he fired all save one, and drove 400 helpless women and children to seek shelter in the log huts of the scattered settlers, or in the bark wigwams of the wandering Indians.

Pleas for Patriotism.

"You should be patriotic and contribute your valuable services to your country without thought of pecuniary reward."
"I will," replied the official; "just as soon as a whole lot of people get patriotic enough to quit sending their bills to me."

Absent-Minded.

He—In what way?
She—He enclosed a lot of millinery and dress making bills and forgot to put in the money to pay for them.

Didn't Pan Out.

Mrs. Bacon—What became of your fiddle? You thought so much of it.
Mrs. Bacon—Oh, I "fiddled" it.

SELF DELUSION.

Many People Deceived by Coffee.

We like to defend our indulgence and habits even though we may be convinced of their actual harmfulness. A man can convince himself that whiskey is good for him on a cold morning, or beer on a hot summer day—when he wants the whiskey or beer. It's the same with coffee. Thousands of people suffer headache and nervousness year after year but try to persuade themselves the cause is not coffee—because they like coffee.

"While yet a child I commenced using coffee and continued it," writes a Wis. man, "until I was a regular coffee fiend. I drank it every morning and in consequence had a blinding headache nearly every afternoon."

"My folks thought it was coffee that ailed me, but I liked it and would not admit it was the cause of my trouble, so I stuck to coffee and the headaches stuck to me."

"Finally the folks stopped buying coffee and brought home some Postum. They made it right (directions on pkg.) and told me to see what difference it would make with my head, and during that first week on Postum my old affliction did not bother me once. From that day to this we have used nothing but Postum in place of coffee—headaches are a thing of the past and the whole family is in fine health."

"Postum looks good, smells good, tastes good, is good, and does good to the whole body."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell both kinds. "There's a Reason" for Postum.
